In the search for new markets, the British have entirely let slip this South American country. The following extracts are taken from an interview with the Bolivian consul in London: Bolivia is very rich in gold, silver, lead, and copper. A private company, largely composed of Scotchmen, with a capital of 30,000, is being completed to develop the alluvial gold deposits of the Pilaya River. There is an excellent opening for immigrants. In the plain of Beni are over 2,000,000 head of cattle, worth from 18s. to 20s. each. India rubber is the chief product of the country. England takes nearly all of it and the United States a little. The inland railways are limited; the traffic is by mules and barges. The nine steamers used for river traffic were all made in England; two more are now going out....

Reviews

This publication will never be straightforward to get going on looking at but really fun to see. This can be for all those who state that there had not been a worth looking at. You wont really feel monotony at any moment of your own time (that's what catalogs are for about should you request me).
