

DOWNLOAD

Blaming No One: Blog Postings on Arts, Letters, Policy (Paperback)

By Dan Whitman

New Academia Publishing, LLC, United States, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 226 x 150 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This collection of published blog postings from a retired U.S. Foreign Service officer offers a perspective challenging facile suppositions, and notes historic moments of interest for the general reader. This book is a series of reflections at the point of retirement from the U.S. Foreign Service. The postings, all colored by the author's experience, include short essays on the following themes: personal anecdote, people/profiles, the Foreign Policy seen by a mid-level official, human nature, government functions, and other (music, immigration, condominium rules on dog comportment.). The collection is marked by a tone of light humor and social/institutional criticism. The book should serve as an easy read, in short segments. At the same time, the full text, printed in chronological order of their publication dates, will give a perspective which questions and challenges facile suppositions, and notes historic moments of interest for the general reader. Whitman's prose reflects the concrete (it reminds me of light on water) and yet it suggests in subtle ways his profound thoughts and feelings about the human condition, based...

READ ONLINE
[5.79 MB]

Reviews

A fresh e-book with a new viewpoint. Better then never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. I am happy to explain how here is the very best ebook i actually have study during my individual lifestyle and may be he greatest pdf for actually.

-- Diana Flatley

Extremely helpful for all class of folks. I really could comprehended almost everything using this written e publication. You will not feel monotony at at any time of the time (that's what catalogs are for about in the event you check with me).

-- Prof. Melyna Dooley V